REPEATED HIMSELF
IN LOVE LETTERS

New Terms of Endearment in
Each of Alleged Letters
Written to Mrs. Dean.

HAS WIFE'S SYMPATHY

Schumann-Heink, Suing for Divorce, Says "He Must Have Loved Her Very Much."

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Mrs. Schumann-Heink, grand opera prima donna, expressed sympathy for her husband, William Rapp, whom she is suing for divorce, and for Mrs. Catherine Dean, named as alleged co-respondent, before the resumption of the trial today.

"He must have loved her very much," she said. "The letters he sent to her were a shock to me when I read them and in court, I did not understand them all and my lawyers would not explain them to me. But the little that I heard told me everything. A divorce is a frightful thing, terrible for everybody."

More impassioned letters addressed to Mrs. Catherine Dean and alleged to have been written by Rapp, were introduced in Judge Sullivan's court today.

Under date of Aug. 1, 1913, the writer of the letters said: "I wrote you Friday, Saturday, Sunday. Monday I did not write, as I had conferences all day. I wrote again Tuesday and Wednesday. I wrote again Thursday. I was discouraged at not hearing from you."

The reason the writer did not hear from Mrs. Dean was in court in the person of Miss Frances J. Ashton, a nurse employed as a detective by counsel for Mrs. Schumann-Heink. She was the first witness of the day and testified that she roomed with Mrs. Dean from time to time during 1913 and intercepted a considerable number of Rapp's letters.

"My Wonderful Girl," Ben M. Smith, chief of counsel for the defendant, declared he would center his defense on the allegations that the singer is not a resident of Illinois and therefore not entitled to sue for divorce in the Illinois courts. He said that the letters would prove Rapp's counter charge against the singer by evidence of the defense. If successful in this, he said, there would be no necessity for controverting the letters placed in evidence in behalf of the prima donna.

In the letter of Aug. 1, 1913, Mrs. Dean addressed as "My darling, wonderful girl," it went on:

"Without you it is awful. Just now, when I require that look just of yours, the most I must forego it. That is honest, girls, and you know that my unbounded admiration for your ability is true. You are the one and only little woman for me, who can keep me true and straight and who can bring out the best in me."

Letter signed "Your Billie," The spirit mentions a Mrs. de Shoth, a woman who, the writer says, gave her the idea of coming to Chicago, confronting the Madison street, she gave me considerable information about her. The letter is signed "Your Billie," and concludes with the statement that what money the writer has "is yours."

Mrs. Schumann-Heink, garbed in a small checked tailored suit and wearing the little black hat by which the spectators have learned to pick her out in the crowd inside the court railing, listened intently to the reading of the letters.

Letters written Aug. 6 and Aug. 7 were read. A mislaid dated Sept. 5 was sent in care of Mark Harrison, an actor who, as Mrs. Dean's apartment, by avoid interception.

Rapp never repeated himself in addressing his letters to Mrs. Dean. She was "My darling wonderful girl," "My darling present and future," "My Own," "My one best bet" and "Glorious good little woman kid."

In them there was a reference to two checks which the writer had sent. Plans for a joint business, life and hopes of a blissful future filled the pages.

"You see," said the letter of Aug. 6 "For the present S. (Schumann-Heink) must believe we are entirely estranged or never had any more intimate association."

TWO HENS SIT ON EGGS,
ENGLAND TO MISSOURI

They Arrive in Jefferson City
for Judge Graves After a 4000-Mile Journey.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 8.—Two hens were placed upon 14 eggs each in a coop in Liverpool, England, May 11, and the coop was put on a steamship for New York. Instructions how to feed the hens were written on the coop.

After 16 days the hens reached New York and now they have arrived in Jefferson City, and they are still sitting on the eggs, which came in intact after the 4000-mile journey.

The hens were shipped to Judge W.
Graves, of the Supreme Court, Judge
Graves has tried in the past to get Indian game chickens from England without success. The eggs after shipment would not give desired hatching results. He tried the hatching in transit as an experiment. He is watch-fully waiting now on the two hens.

FIRST OCEAN LINER GOES

Steamship Alliance Towed
Through in One and a Half Hours.

PANAMA, June 8.—The first passage
through the Gatun locks by an ocean liner was successfully made today by the Panama Railroad steamship Alliance,
a vessel of 4000 tons.

The trip was made to test the electric towing locomotives' handling of a large vessel. The time required was about one hour and one-half each way. A large crowd witnessed the vessel's passage.

TRI-CITIES' PASTORS
PRAY FOR A RAIN

Crops in Vicinity Damaged
by the Drought; Some Wheat Being Harvested.

Most of the pastors of churches in the Tri-Cities offered Sunday special prayers for rain. That section has not enjoyed a beneficial rainfall in six weeks and crops are threatened with destruction.

Farmers are preparing to cut wheat not affected in order to realize what they can on it. It is estimated that a steady rainfall would last a half day is necessary to relieve the situation.

ARMY WORMS DISAPPEAR

Vanish From Greene County
After Doing $10,000 Damage.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., June 8.—Disappearing as suddenly as they came, the army worms have abandoned Greene County after having done damage to corn and other crops estimated at $10,000.

None of the worms could be found within 10 miles of Springfield, yesterday. It is said they have succumbed to the drought.

Generally Fair,
Hot Weather
for the Week

WASHINGTON, June 8.—
GENERALLY fair and hot weather is forecast for the present week east of the Rockies.

"There are no present indications of precipitation of consequence east of the Rocky Mountains," says the Weather Bureau's bulletin, "except that there will be showers and thunderstorms at the outset from the lake region
eastward and possibly in the far Northwest. Occasional local thunderstorms are also probable in the South, including Texas, but no
general rains."

"West of the Rocky Mountains rains will continue early in the week, followed by generally fair and warmer weather from the middle until the close of the week, the rising temperatures extending to the eastern slope of the mountains."

"It will be somewhat cooler Monday and Tuesday over the upper lake region, the upper Mississippi Valley and the central portion of the country, with moderate temperatures thereafter, while in the East rather high temperatures will rule during much of the week owing to the presence of a strong high pressure area over the South Atlantic states and the adjacent ocean."

The official weather forecast Monday held out no hope for immediate relief from the heat wave. It had a temperature high Monday at 9 p. m. of 94 degrees, the lowest since Sunday, making them the hottest days so far this year.

The torridity is made more unbearable
than in previous summers when the temperature has mounted even higher than
this year, because of the long drought.
St. Louis has had only .16 of an inch of rain since May 6, the date of the last shower of consequence. The total deficiency from the normal rainfall since March is 5.34 inches. The deficiency since Jan. 1 is 6.52 inches.

The normal rainfall for May is 4.34 inches. Last month only .09 of an inch of rain fell, the smallest amount of any May since 1897, the year records first kept in St. Louis.

The temperature in May averaged three degrees a day above normal. The normal temperature was 65.5 degrees. The June normal is 71.1. Thus far this month the temperature has averaged seven degrees a day above the normal.

Three persons suffering from heat exhaustion were taken to the city hospitals yesterday.

Marshall T. Burton, 65 years old, an inmate of the Soldiers' and Sailors'
Home, at Quincy, Ill., was found unconscious at 5 p. m. on the sidewalk in front of the home of his son-in-law,
Robert Wycoff, 3833 Botanical avenue.
Physicians at the city hospital said his condition was serious.

Mrs. Catherine Boeckman, 75 years old, of 615 North Twenty-third street, collapsed after she had walked to the home of a friend, Mrs. William Stockman, 3315 Greer avenue, at 8:45 p. m.
She was taken to the city hospital, where her condition was said to be serious.

Herman Jacobs, 38 years old, of 3239
Morgan street, was taken in a serious condition to the city hospital from Cobrington and Union avenues, where he collapsed at 3 p. m.

OZARK MAN WHOSE CONVERSION LED TO PRISON IS PAROLED

Farmer Who Killed Neighbor's Hog Confessed After He Heard Revivalist Preach.

SENTENCED TO TWO YEARS

Prosecutor and Judge Joined in Appeal to Governor When They Learned Circumstances.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 8.—The Board of Pardons today recommended to Gov. Major for parole Arthur Donaldson of Taney, Mo., whose sentence to prison
four months ago was the direct result of his conversion to Christianity. Gov.
Major immediately signed the parole and Donaldson was set free.

Donaldson is 35 years old. He is a farmer and painter and lived with his wife and three small children on a small homestead near Taney. More than two years ago he killed a neighbor's hog in the woods of Oak County.

Donaldson and his wife joined the church during an evangelist revival
last January.

Hears Sermon; Confesses.

The evangelist preached a sermon in which he declared that remission of sins could be obtained only by a full confession before God and man and that one who had wronged a fellow man must make full reparation to atone for the wrong.

After conferring with his wife and the preacher, Donaldson went to the Sheriff of Oak County and confessed to killing the hog. When arraigned in court he pleaded guilty to the technical charge of grand larceny and was sentenced to two years in State's prison.

When the circumstances of his confession became known many citizens of Oak County, including State's Attorney George W. Boone, who prosecuted him, and Circuit Judge John T. Moore, who sentenced him, began an active campaign for parole.

Donaldson Explains Confession.

In a letter to the Board of Pardons, Prosecutor Boone said: "I joined a church which believes that before a person can enter eternal bliss he must publicly confess all of his past sins, and while this may be right, yet I consider it a very inconvenient practice."

He stated that he had written an application to the Board of Pardons, Donaldson explained his confession thus: "I would rather tell the truth and come here than to tell a lie and stay there, for now when I go home I can be a man and the other way
I would be a liar."

A petition, containing several hundred signatures, recites the incidents of the confession and trial and says that Donaldson's family is destitute.

Clash of London Police and the Suffragettes
Trying to Reach King at Buckingham Palace'NO REST FOR KING,' SAY SUFFRAGETTES;
JEER HIM AT RACE

Militants Start Campaign of Denouncing Monarchs Every Time They Publicly Appear.

LONDON, June 8.—Another demonstration by a militant suffragette in the presence of King George and Queen
Mary occurred at the International Horse Show at Olympia this afternoon.

Their Majesties had hardly sat down
when a young woman rose in the aisle opposite and screamed denunciations of forcible feeding of suffragette prisoners. The police pounced upon her immediately, but her ejection from the audience was effected only after a fierce struggle.

"No peace for King George or Queen Mary," is the latest order given out by the headquarters staff of the militant suffragettes and their followers now at low ebb of their campaign of denunciations in public to pass without some kind of demonstration.

Public anger in connection with the militant suffragettes' outrages is expressed daily with more vehemence
throughout Great Britain. Reports from the provinces show that suffragette meetings organized yesterday were generally broken up and the women threatened with violence.

At Ilford, east of London, the speakers were pelted with tomatoes and other missiles and an unsuccessful attempt was made by the crowd under the leadership of a woman, to upset the wagon
from which the suffragettes were speaking. The orators escaped into the residence of the local leader of the militant society and the crowd afterward pelted the house with stones and broke every window in the place.

The suffragettes yesterday for the first time invaded Catholic churches and attempted to harangue the congregations.
Worship was disturbed in both Westminster Cathedral and the Church of the Oratory, Brompton.

Mrs. May Fausten, the American woman arrested with several others after a disturbance at the Brompton Oratory yesterday, was arraigned today at Westminster Police Court. The Magistrate told her she would have to give a bond of $50 to guarantee her good behavior for six months or go to Holloway Jail for 14 days. Mrs. Fausten unhesi-tantly gave the bail and announced her intention of at once beginning a "hunger strike."

Oscar Fausten, her husband, who was present in court, acquiesced in his wife's decision. He informed the Magistrate that he was a suffragist, but that when he accompanied his wife to the oratory he did not know there was to be any
"unseemly demonstration."

Father Bernard Vaughan had just taken his place in the pulpit of Westminster Cathedral for the evening sermon when a woman rushed up the steps toward the altar and waving her arms
shouted an "O S" to some nearby persons. She was dressed stylishly and apparently was a woman of refinement.

Bright has filed a counter claim,
which he hopes will save him from paying $15 for a $750 horse which he already owns. He insists that Williams pay him $5 cents a day for the use of the animal, or an amount which would wipe out the $15 cost for keep.

Bright, after the long search for his horse, Monday morning saw it in Williams' pasture. Williams said he had come to him the day it left Bright.
He had called in a dentist to file his teeth and had fed it up, and it was quite a different appearing animal.

Bright wanted to take it right along home with him, but Williams said he would not allow that until he had been paid $5 cents a day for keeping it.
Bright said he would be willing to pay the $5 cents a day if Williams would pay it back to him for the use of the horse. They went to Justice Sewall.
He was unable to suggest a solution,
but took the matter under advisement.

12 Beer-Drinking Monkeys
Come to Live in Our Zoo

Colony From Germany, Gift of Andrew Baur, Fretful During Hours of Sunday Lid, but Bottle Puts Them in Good Spirits.

There was joy in Monkeyland at Forest Park Monday when 12 handsome monkeys from Hagenbeck's zoo in Germany arrived from the Fatherland, the gift of Andrew Baur, president of the Baur Flour Co. of St. Louis, to the Zoological Society.

"They spent all of Sunday in the room of the United States Express Co. There were strange mutterings in the cage the entire day—an undercurrent of revolt.

Time and again employees of the Express company sought to soothe their spirits. Dainty tidbits and morsels worthy of a debutante's coming out party were offered to them and disdainfully refused. The monkeys even threatened to scratch the chance passerby.

Dieckman Visits Them.

On Monday George E. Dieckman, president

honor and that orders had been given to the Mexican gunboats to return to Puerto Mexico.

Gen. Huerta's action in calling off the blockade was inspired, it was stated, by a sincere desire not to jeopardize the success of mediation.

In diplomatic circles Huerta's action was regarded as conclusive evidence of sincerity that he had placed the fate of his government and the settlement of the Mexican problem fully in the hands of the South American mediators and his representatives at Niagara Falls.

Antilla's Cargo May Be Held Up for a While.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ontario, June 8.—Gen. Huerta, in abandoning the blockade of Tampico according to official advice to delegates to the mediation conference, removes the danger of any rupture in the mediation proceedings and will permit the Constitutionalists to land the arms carried by the Cuban ship Antilla.

The position of the American Government was said to be that it would be tantamount to partial recognition of the Huerta government to permit the latter to engage in the sale of blockade which is provided for by international law and sanctioned by the comity of nations.

One report had it that the steamer would be diverted to some other port, probably Havana, pending further mediation negotiations.

The blockade incident was only briefly discussed at the conference between the American delegates and the mediators. It was regarded as a past issue.

Then the American commissioners presented the peace plan which they had drafted. In many respects it is the same as was suggested by the Mexican delegates and the mediators. The points of difference are in matters of detail.

It was rumored that the Spanish Ambassador in Washington, who is leaving for Mexico, had been in the United States, had been able to make some arrangement whereby the Antilla voluntarily would withhold her cargo of arms from the Constitutionalists. This could not be confirmed here.

One report had it that the steamer would be diverted to some other port, probably Havana, pending further mediation negotiations.

The blockade incident was only briefly discussed at the conference between the American delegates and the mediators. It was regarded as a past issue.

Then the American commissioners presented the peace plan which they had drafted. In many respects it is the same as was suggested by the Mexican delegates and the mediators. The points of difference are in matters of detail.

It was rumored that the Spanish Ambassador in Washington, who is leaving for Mexico, had been in the United States, had been able to make some arrangement whereby the Antilla voluntarily would withhold her cargo of arms from the Constitutionalists. This could not be confirmed here.

Carranza's Reported Plan for Government After Huerta Falls

NEW YORK, June 8.

In an interview with a correspondent at Durango, Gen. Carranza is reported to have outlined his plan for the government of Mexico as follows:

Equal taxation for all. Accurate appraisal of all property.

Every act of Huerta's to be declared null and void.

Mexico's foreign liabilities guaranteed, but payment of war damages to be delayed until domestic problems are solved.

Nonpartisan Spaniards to be protected.

Agrarian problems to be studied thoroughly; all classes to be helped.

Constitutional army to be used as basis of standing army.

Federal soldiers surrendering to be amnestied.

Mexico's murderers to die. Huerta to be punished as he deserves.

Commissions appointed to study financial, educational, transportation and judicial problems.

It was rumored that the Spanish Ambassador in Washington, who is leaving for Mexico, had been in the United States, had been able to make some arrangement whereby the Antilla voluntarily would withhold her cargo of arms from the Constitutionalists. This could not be confirmed here.

SUPREME COURT GIVES COMMISSION NEW RATE POWER

Order That Texas Roads Should Alter Either State or Interstate Charges Upheld.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The Supreme Court today upheld the Interstate Commerce Commission's orders in the Shreveport rate case, thus placing interstate railroads more under the commission and less under state commissions.

The Louisiana Railroad Commission itself initiated the contest before the Interstate Commerce Commission in behalf of the jobbers along the Louisiana-Texas border.

State Commission Complained. The Louisiana Commission complained to the Interstate Commerce Commission in March, 1911, that the class rates charged by the railroads for transportation in a westerly direction from Shreveport to points in Texas were unjustly discriminatory in that they were much greater than the rates contemporaneously charged for the transportation of like traffic from Dallas and Houston, in Texas, to the same points.

They complained, in substance, that a trade wall had been erected around Texas and that outside jobbers were not permitted to enter into the enclosed field.

The Houston, East & West Texas Railway Co. and the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. did not deny the discrimination, but answered that the Shreveport rates were reasonable in themselves, and that the Texas rates were not voluntary, but were prescribed by the Texas Railroad Commission.

The Interstate Commerce Commission issued an order, holding that an unjust discrimination existed and directed the railroads either to lower the interstate rate from Shreveport to Texas points or to increase the Texas rates from Dallas and Houston to other Texas points, so as to remove this discrimination.

The railroads vainly endeavored to induce the Commerce Court to enjoin the enforcement of this order.

One of the principal points of contention in the case was whether this was a voluntary or an involuntary discrimination by the railroads against Shreveport. The railroads contended that it was involuntary because they were directed by the Texas Railroad Commission to put into force the low Texas rates. For each higher rate charged, the railroads contended, they would be liable under Texas law for a $500 penalty to the State, and from $15 to $500 to the shipper. In addition, a fine of $500 might be forthcoming for failing to bring the purification and sterilization of air industrially.

Held Rates Were Voluntary. The Government, on the other hand, contended that the Texas rates were voluntary because the railroads had not appealed to any court or commission to have the Texas rates set aside.

Another contention was whether the interstate commerce law was so drafted as to confer upon the commission jurisdiction over intrastate rates that might affect interstate rates.

SHERIFF BUYS RIFLES TO STOP RIVAL UNIONS' ROW

Sheriff Bode of St. Louis County purchased 34 rifles and swore in several special deputies Monday as a warning to rival iron workers' unions not to carry on their fights in the county.

Bode's action followed a disturbance last Friday at Brentmoor, a suburb where five members of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' Mutual Protective Association, local No. 1, were working upon the residence being built by Arthur H. Feurbacher.

Fifteen members of the International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' Union approached the house and, by throwing bricks, drove the rival union men off the work.

They pursued their fleeing rivals for a half mile to the Clayton Courthouse, where the five men sought protection.

When Marshal J. F. Roth of Clayton attempted to stop the brick throwing he was told to mind his own business.

Two of the fleeing iron workers were struck with bricks and slightly injured.

Admiral Fletcher Praises Officers for High Bravery

ENLISTED MEN SHOWED CONSPICUOUS COURAGE DURING TWO DAYS' FIGHTING

THRILLING DEEDS OF RANK AND FILE TOLD IN REPORTS

P. W. Green of St. Louis Commanded for Exceptional Gun Pointing.

OFFICERS SHOWED SKILL

One Man, Wounded Three Times, Fought On and His Leg Was Shattered.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—"Resourcefulness, courage and devotion to duty of all officers of the landing force was everything that could be desired, and reflected the highest credit upon our naval services," declared Rear Admiral Fletcher in a report accompanying his story of the seizure of Vera Cruz, made public today by the Navy Department.

Numerous officers of the navy and the Marine Corps who distinguished themselves for cool indifference to danger, and skill in handling their men, were named for special honor in Admiral Fletcher's report. Three were picked for "eminent and conspicuous conduct in battle." They were:

Capt. W. R. Bush, U. S. N., commanding Naval Brigade.

Lieutenant-Colonel W. C. Neville, U. S. M. C., commanding Second Regiment Marines.

Lieutenant Commander A. Buchanan, U. S. M. C., commanding First Seaman Regiment.

"They are deserving of the highest honors and rewards," stated Admiral Fletcher. "These officers were in both days' fighting and were almost constantly under fire from noon until we were in full possession of the city, about noon on the 22d. Their duties required them to be at points of great danger in directing their officers and men, and they exhibited conspicuous courage, coolness and skill in their conduct of the fighting. Upon their courage and skill, more than upon that of any others, depended success or failure. Their responsibilities were great, and they met them by conduct eminent and conspicuous in the battle."

Four Officers Showed Courage and Judgment.

"I have similarly to record the conduct of Maj. R. C. Berkeley, U. S. M. C.; Lieut. R. Walworth, U. S. M. C.; Maj. G. S. Reid, U. S. M. C.; Lieut. G. W. S. Castle, U. S. N."

"They were eminent and conspicuous in command of their battalions. These officers were in the fighting both day and night, and they exhibited conspicuous courage and skill in leading their men through the action. Lieut. Walworth and Lieut. Castle in seizing the custom house encountered for many hours the heaviest and most persistent concentrated fire of the first day, but their courage and coolness under trying conditions were marked. The cool judgment and courage of Maj. Berkeley and Maj. Reid and their skill in handling their men in encountering and overcoming the machine gun and rifle fire down Chino de Mayo and parallel streets, accounts for the small percentage of the losses of marines in their command."

"During the two days' action, Capt. H. M. F. Huse, U. S. N.; Lieut. G. M. Courte, U. S. N.; Lieut. F. J. Fletcher, U. S. N., were under fire and were eminent and conspicuous in the performance of their duties. Capt. Huse was indefatigable in his labors of a most important character, both with the division commander in directing affairs and in his efforts on shore to get in communication with the Mexican authorities to avoid needlessly prolonging the conflict."

Lieut. Courts had well qualified himself by thorough study during the year on duty in Mexico to deal with the conditions of this engagement, and his services were of great value to me. He twice volunteered and passed in an open boat through the zone of fire to convey important orders to the Chester, and then under a severe fire."

Lieut. Fletcher was in charge of the hospital, and succeeded in getting on board over 300 refugees, many of them after the conflict had commenced. This ship was under fire, being struck more than 20 times, but he succeeded in getting all the refugees placed in safety. Later he was placed in charge of the train conveying refugees under a flag of truce. This was a hazardous duty, as it was believed the train was intended and a small error in dealing with the Mexican guard of soldiers might readily have caused a conflict, such a conflict at one time being narrowly averted. It was greatly due to his efforts in establishing friendly relations with the Mexican officers that so many refugees succeeded in reaching Vera Cruz from the interior."

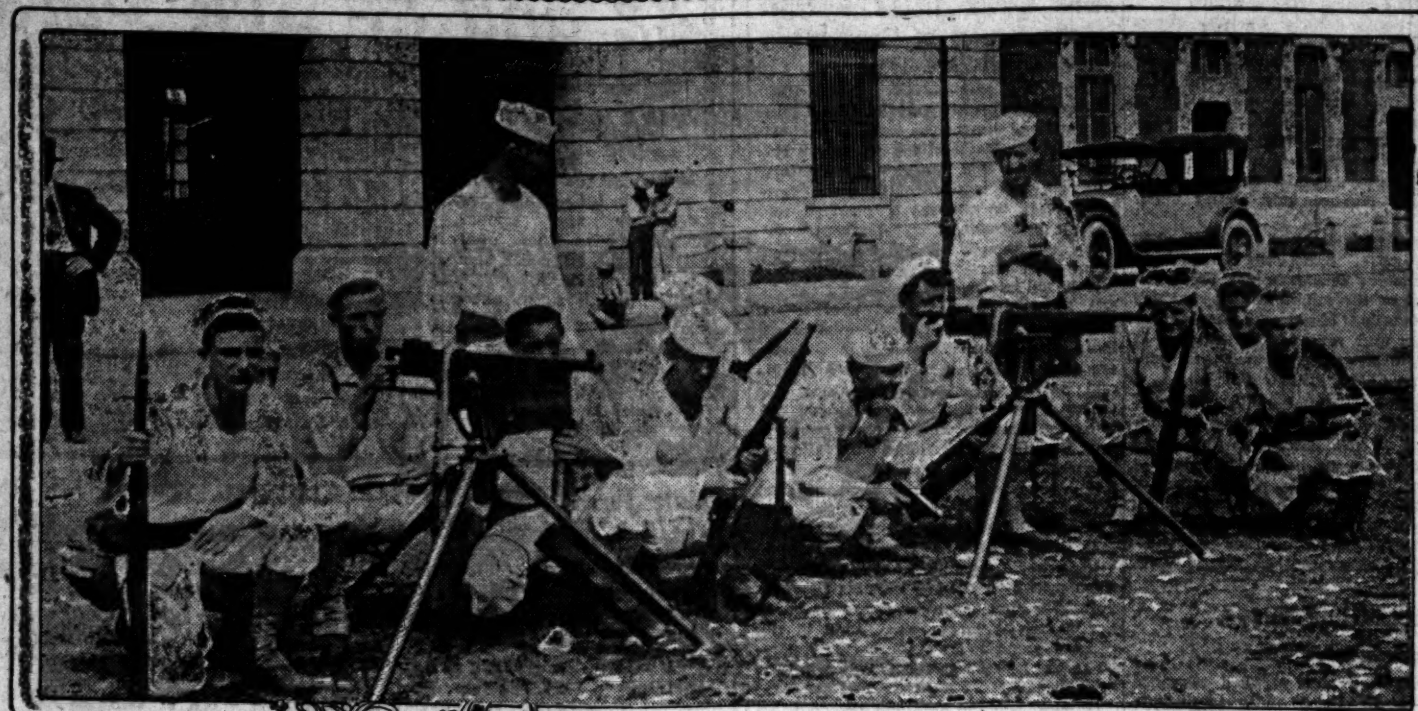

Commanders Who Led Their Men With Skill.

"In both days' fighting at the head of their companies, Capt. V. H. Hughes, U. S. M. C., Capt. W. H. Hill, U. S. M. C., Capt. E. T. Fryer, U. S. M. C., Capt. J. F. Dyer, U. S. M. C., Ensign T. A. Whitcomb, U. S. N., Ensign G. C. Ender, U. S. N., Ensign P. W. Foster, U. S. N., were eminent and conspicuous in their conduct, leading their men with skill and courage."

"Sergeant M. S. Elliott, U. S. N., Brigade Surgeon, was eminent and conspicuous in the efficient establishment and operation of the base hospital, and his cool judgment and courage in supervising first aid stations on the firing line and removing the wounded."

"Chief Boatwain John McCloy, U."

Types of Seamen Praised by Admiral Fletcher

Those Commended for Work on Second Day.

"All the officers heretofore mentioned were engaged in both days' fighting. The following are the names of those mentioned in the second day's engagement only: Maj. A. W. Catlin, U. S. M. C.; Maj. S. D. Butler, U. S. M. C.; Lieutenant-Commander A. B. Keating, U. S. N.; Lieut. F. V. McNair, U. S. N.; Lieut. J. C. Townsend, U. S. N.; Lieut. A. E. Stetson, U. S. N.; Lieut. J. H. Ingram, U. S. N., were eminent and conspicuous. Lieut. Grady, in command of the Second Regiment Artillery, from necessarily exposed position, shelled the enemy from their strongest positions. Lieut. Hartigan was conspicuous for his skillful and efficient handling of the artillery and machine guns of the Arkansas' battalion, for which he was specially commended in reports."

Admiral Fletcher named several officers for extraordinary heroism in battle. In that connection he said:

"Capt. E. A. Anderson, U. S. N., commanded the Second Seaman Regiment. In marching his regiment across the open space in front of the Naval Academy and other buildings, he unexpectedly met a heavy fire from rifles, machine guns and one-pounders which caused part of his command to break and fall back, and many casualties occurred amongst them at that time. His indifference to the heavy fire, to which he himself was exposed at the head of his regiment showed him to be fearless and courageous in battle."

Lieutenant Assisted Wounded Man Under Fire.

"Lieut. J. P. Lannon, U. S. N., assisted a wounded man under heavy fire, and, after returning to the head of his battalion, was himself severely wounded."

"Ensign H. C. Fraser, U. S. N., ran forward to rescue a wounded man, and in doing so he was exposed to the fire of his own men who were temporarily suspended for fear of hitting him. He returned at once to his position in line."

"Ensign E. O. McDonnell, U. S. N., brigade hospital officer, posted on the roof of the Terminal Hotel, there, and personally day and night, maintained communication between the troops and the ships. At this exposed post he was continually under fire. One man was killed and three wounded at his side during the two days' fighting. He showed extraordinary heroism and striking conduct, and maintained his station in the highest degree of efficiency. All signals got through, largely due to his heroic devotion to duty."

"Chief Boatwain John McCloy, in addition to his commendation for 'eminent and conspicuous services in battle,' is deserving of recognition for 'extraordinary heroism in battle.' During the engagement of the launches under his command he was shot through the thigh, but refused to leave his post of duty until the conflict had ceased on the following day."

"Sergeant Langhorne is commended by his regimental commander for showing extraordinary heroism in battle by carrying a wounded man from in front of the naval academy while under heavy fire."

"In addition to the above whom I have mentioned for their conduct in battle, the commander of the Third Regiment, in his report, mentions the following officers for assisting wounded under fire: Commander J. E. Yarnall, U. S. N.; Lieutenant-Commander J. Landon, U. S. N.; Lieut. I. C. Johnson, U. S. N.; Ensign H. C. Fraser, U. S. N.; Ensign D. R. Lee, U. S. N.; Ensign L. A. Davidson, U. S. N."

"In the reports of brig and regimental commanders, a list of other officers and men has been mentioned praising them for courage and devotion to duty in general, and this praise might well apply to all officers of the landing force. The resourcefulness, courage and devotion to duty of all officers of the landing force was everything that could be desired, and reflected the highest credit upon our naval service."

Enlisted Men's Bravery at Vera Cruz Graphically Told by Fletcher

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Narratives of the bravery of enlisted men of the Navy and Marine Corps during the fighting at Vera Cruz on April 21 and 22 were included in Rear Admiral Fletcher's report of the Mexican port's seizure, made public today by the Navy Department. The report bestows praise on the entire personnel, the following men were mentioned for conspicuous acts:

H. N. Nickerson, Wheeling, W. Va., boatwain's mate, second class, battleship Utah—Was slightly wounded three times during the afternoon of April 21.

G. H. Harner, Canton, O., boatwain's mate, battleship Florida—On April 21 at about 12:30 p. m. Ensign G. H. Lowry in command of First Company, Florida Battalion at Custom House, called for volunteers to go into an alleyway between the Custom House and an open warehouse down which a heavy fire was being directed by the enemy from the Oriente Hotel on Avenida Landeros y Cos. Harner responded with four others and finally succeeded in dislodging the enemy. J. F. Schumacher, Cook, one of the volunteers was killed. Previous to this time Harner occupied a position alongside Custom House wall from which he with accuracy and coolness killed the crew of a Mexican machine gun, operating in front of the Naval Academy, (Lieut. Walworth).

Held Comrade With One Hand, Fired With Other. G. Cregan, Port Richmond, N. Y., boatwain's mate, battleship Florida—Ensign Lowry called for volunteers to go into an alleyway between the Custom House and an open warehouse down which a heavy fire was being directed by the enemy from the Oriente Hotel on Avenida Landeros y Cos. Harner responded with four others and finally succeeded in dislodging the enemy. J. F. Schumacher, Cook, one of the volunteers was killed. Previous to this time Harner occupied a position alongside Custom House wall from which he with accuracy and coolness killed the crew of a Mexican machine gun, operating in front of the Naval Academy, (Lieut. Walworth).

verted his attention to himself and shot him. (Lieutenant Walworth.)

C. F. Bishop, Pittsburgh quartermaster, second class.

J. A. Walsh, New York City, seaman.

C. L. Nordesick, Valtic, N. Y., ordinary seaman.

F. J. Schuppen, New York City, ordinary seaman.

The above-named four men from the battleship Florida were in the signal squad under Ensign McDonnell. They were stationed on the roof of the Terminal Hotel from 11:30 a. m. April 21, till sunset and returned there at daylight the 22d.

On this roof and near them a Marine was killed; an electrician, third class was seriously wounded and one member of the party (Nordesick) was wounded. Notwithstanding the constant fire to which they were subjected and their unusually exposed position, they were not diverted from their extremely important duty of keeping unbroken and efficient communication by signals with the Prairie. (Capt. Rush.)

N. Dustrup, Brooklyn, N. Y., Chief Turret Captain, battleship Utah—He was in command of the second section of the third company. For several hours he was in charge of an advanced barricade under a heavy fire during the afternoon of April 21st, and not only displayed utmost ability as a leader of men, but by his marked composure and courage, he exerted a great steadying influence on the men around him. (Lieut. Castle.)

W. B. Weeks, Red Key, Ind., ordinary seaman, battleship Utah—Although one of the youngest men of his company, he attracted the attention of his company officers, when, after a section had broken into the customs warehouse without being subject to more than ordinary fire, they were suddenly exposed to a severe fire at close range from the Oriente Hotel and roofs of buildings on Zaragoza street. He was one of the leaders in returning this fire through the iron grillings and set an example for others to follow. (Lieut. Castle.)

B. Berton, New York City, boatwain's mate, second class, battleship Utah: With M. Hutchison, seaman, he occupied an advanced position exposed to the fire from the old market and Hotel Buena Vista and Oriente and nearby buildings, while scouting to the south-eastward of the custom house until ordered to withdraw. His work was of special value in locating the established positions of the Mexicans. (Lieut. Castle.)

Four Men Patrolled the Roofs in Darkness.

F. N. C. Overall, Uola, Kan., boatwain's mate, first class, battleship Utah—During the night of April 21 he, with a small squad of three men, occupied the old Benito Juarez Light Tower, under fire, and later patrolled the surrounding roofs in the darkness, thereby preventing a surprise attack upon the section of his company in the streets below. I consider this service of special value. (Lieut. Castle.)

F. E. Norman, Butler, N. Y., coxswain, battleship Utah—With R. E. Englund and Copeland and two or three other men occupied a position on the roof of the Hotel Mexico, that was under a severe fire from the church tower, Diligencias and Universal hotels and tower of the municipal building. These men were wounded here in about 10 minutes. Norman's example to others under trying conditions, as well as his own well directed fire, prevented any slackening of our own fire at this time. (Lieut. Castle.)

J. Demondy, Brooklyn, N. Y., boatwain's mate, second class, battleship Utah: About 3 p. m., April 21, he led a squad to the roof of the Custom House and succeeded in silencing the fire from the roof of the Hotel Oriente and the Hotel Mexico. His work was particularly effective. (Lieutenant Castle.)

J. G. Smith, Los Angeles, Cal., fireman, second class, battleship Utah: Was with the Benito Juarez gun detachment. These guns did not have tripod mounts, and the small struts fitted were not suitable for use in the streets.

Early in the action Smith, finding that under these conditions the Benito Juarez guns were ineffective, fired the gun from his shoulder, and by so doing rendered valuable service. This has never before been done by my knowledge. (Lieut. Castle.)

A. J. Fogarty, Chiklango, O., gunner's mate, third class, battleship Utah—Led been wounded three times and the courage he displayed when his later wounds made it necessary to carry him to the rear was an inspiration to all who saw him. (Lieut. Castle.)

Value Than Whole Squad.

A. De Souer, Milwaukee, Wis., Chief Turret Captain, battleship Utah: On the afternoon of April 21 he was placed in charge of a small squad of men and stationed at the corner of a warehouse to eastward of the custom house. His position was subject to a severe fire from the buildings along Avenida Landeros y Cos, and after several hours of well-directed fire he silenced it. Later when two sections of artillery were sent to the corner of a warehouse to eastward of the custom house, his position was subject to a severe fire from snipers. Being an excellent marksman and notably cool, he was especially selected for this work. Later, when two sections of artillery were sent to join Capt. Anderson's command, he performed similar services and was almost continually under direct fire from snipers. His services in this connection were of more value than a whole squad.

J. G. Harner, Canton, O., boatwain's mate, battleship Florida—On April 21 at about 12:30 p. m. Ensign G. H. Lowry in command of First Company, Florida Battalion at Custom House, called for volunteers to go into an alleyway between the Custom House and an open warehouse down which a heavy fire was being directed by the enemy from the Oriente Hotel on Avenida Landeros y Cos. Harner responded with four others and finally succeeded in dislodging the enemy. J. F. Schumacher, Cook, one of the volunteers was killed. Previous to this time Harner occupied a position alongside Custom House wall from which he with accuracy and coolness killed the crew of a Mexican machine gun, operating in front of the Naval Academy, (Lieut. Walworth).

Held Comrade With One Hand, Fired With Other.

G. Cregan, Port Richmond, N. Y., boatwain's mate, battleship Florida—Ensign Lowry called for volunteers to go into an alleyway between the Custom House and an open warehouse down which a heavy fire was being directed by the enemy from the Oriente Hotel on Avenida Landeros y Cos. Harner responded with four others and finally succeeded in dislodging the enemy. J. F. Schumacher, Cook, one of the volunteers was killed. Plant Juice Did Wonders for Her.

ST. LOUIS LADY SAYS SHE HAS TESTED PLANT JUICE AND THE RESULTS WERE FINE.

Mrs. Mary Pfaff, who lives at 1235 South Seventh street in St. Louis, and who is one of the city's oldest and best known residents, having lived here for sixty-seven years, has the following to say about Plant Juice:

"I was in a bad way with rheumatism and was also suffering with a general run-down condition when I read about Plant Juice in the papers and noticed that so many people of this city were being helped by it. I decided to try it and my son bought me a bottle. It has certainly done wonders for me. I know now that all the things I read about it were true. I am feeling better in every way than I have for a long time and am glad to add my recommendation to the rest."

Plant Juice is a great solvent of uric acid. This acid escapes into the blood from weak or diseased kidneys and is the cause of practically all rheumatism. Plant Juice strengthens weak kidneys, clears the blood of all impurities and poisons, tones up the stomach and digestive organs, stimulates the liver into healthy action, corrects constipation, and eradicates all malaria and biliousness from the system. MAYOR TO MAKE FIRST SPEECH FOR CHARTER TONIGHT

Will Address Republicans at Anchor Hall While Rosenfeld Talks to Plumbers.

Mayor Kiel's first public speech in the new city charter campaign will be delivered Monday night at the meeting of the Fifteenth Ward Republican Club, Anchor Hall, Jefferson and Park avenues. It is expected that the club will endorse the new charter, and pledge its active support in the work of its adoption.

While Mayor Kiel is speaking in the Fifteenth Ward, Samuel Rosenfeld, member of the Board of Freeholders, will be speaking at the meeting of the Master Plumbers' Association on Olive street, near Grand avenue.

Mayor Kiel is chairman of the Citizens' New Charter Campaign Committee, and has promised to make many speeches between now and the special election, June 20. In his speeches he will tell how public officials are handicapped in the performance of their public duties by the old charter, and how the new charter will make conditions better for the city. He will speak from his practical experience as the chief executive officer of the city.

Committee to Meet Tuesday.
The Citizens' Campaign Committee will meet at 11:30 Tuesday at Lippe's to receive reports of the several standing committees which are handling details of the campaign. The general committee will meet at least twice a week to keep up the enthusiasm of the workers.

The Merchants' Exchange members will hear the charter discussed at 1:15 p. m. Tuesday by Selden P. Spencer, member of the Board of Freeholders, and Percy Werner, president of the City Club.

The new charter has been endorsed by many municipal experts throughout the United States. Copies of the charter were sent to the experts as soon as it was printed. Among the notable authorities on municipal government endorsing the charter is Richard S. Childs of Philadelphia, secretary of the National Short Ballot Association.

"The proposed new charter," he said in a letter to Secretary Jones of the Board of Freeholders, "is a tremendous advance over the present charter. Every change you have made from the old charter is in the right direction. If the new plan is adopted, I am sure the people of St. Louis will find their public officers more deferential to public opinion than they have been in the past."

Municipal Experts' Views.
"William H. Glasen of Durham, S. C., editor of the South Atlantic Quarterly, well known as a municipal expert, said:

"You have certainly prepared a new charter which can rightfully be called progressive. It impresses me very favorably. I approve the one-house plan of legislation, and the salary of $1800 you fix ought to be sufficient to secure a good type of man as alderman."

"The recall provision makes it possible for the people to remove notoriously unsatisfactory officials. You have done well to give the Mayor the power of appointment over a large number of important offices, and to hold him responsible for their acts."

"The Board of Public Service will likely secure harmony among the various departments, which are vitally important to the public safety, health and welfare of the citizens. In many city governments such departments are continually working at cross purposes."

John A. Fairlie, director of the Efficiency and Economy Committee of Illinois, strongly endorsed the new charter. He said:

"Your proposed new charter is a marked improvement over the present charter of your city. It enlarges the powers of your city government, establishes a better organization of the administrative departments, and increases the measure of popular control. The new charter shows the result of careful study of new ideas, without being carried away with the novelties of the day."
